Q3

Briefly describe the nominee's experience and qualifications to serve on the RSTC:

Ms. Bansal has extensive experience in the power systems and reliability sector. As a Director with NextEra Energy Resources, she oversees various aspects of interconnection, reliability and compliance for NextEra's generating and transmission assets in United States. She is well versed in modeling and IBR related performance issues for solar, wind and battery projects. In her current role, she is an SME for NextEra's compliance related activities. She also supports the operations team with troubleshooting the performance issues.

In her previous roles with GE and Siemens PTI, Ms. Bansal was a power system consultant working with developers, ISOs and utilities to address stability and interconnection concerns through studies. Through her work she is familiar with NERC standards and the ongoing efforts to update some of the IBR related requirements to address the needs of the grid with high renewable penetration. She is also a member of NERC IRPS.
